

Snowy River

The birds have vanished
from a thousand mountains.
On a thousand trails,
not a single human sign.

A little boat,
a bamboo hat and cloak—
the old man, alone,
fishing the snowy river.

Liu Tsung-yuan (773–819)
translated from the Chinese by Sam Hamill